A two story structure is shown on the left. Try to find a control law that doubles the first and second natural period and also doubles the modal damping ratios.

If you encounter any problems, state what they are and conclude your results.